Description: Currently download urls are something like that (this is just an example): http://<chili_installation_url>/attachments/download/<download_id>/<project>-<version>.tar.gz It would be great to have download urls depending only on versions (ie: without a download_id): - for linux distribution's package maintainer/*BSD ports maintainer, bumping a package would be easier - Tools like "uscan":http://manpages.debian.net/cgi-bin/man.cgi?query=uscan or "euscan":http://euscan.iksaif.net/ would work correctly
