Description:
I believe the more companies base their strategy on ChiliProject the better it is for the project. In order to work on measures we first need to understand what the companies' stakes are in the project. Therefore I prepared a first overview on their motivation factors and requirements [[Why companies contribute]]. These factors can then be used to develop a plan how to motivate companies to contribute and support ChiliProject. In a next step we also need to analyse the reasons why companies choose not to engage in the project (e.g. why companies do not public their developments?). Last but not least the project's goals need to be aligned with the result of this discussion.
