

ChiliProject - Feature # 1103: Auto assign on status change

Description:	It would be great to have an "optional" auto assignment when an issue status is changed. i.e. 1. A developer completes an issue and changes the status to "Resolved", this issue should be (with an optional configuration for each Issue status) assigned to for example the QA lead. 2. When an issue status changes to "closed", the assignee could be "none" or any specific user. This behavior can be similar to "Issue Category - Assignee". It would be also great if a message can be displayed to the user telling something like "This issue will be assigned to XYZ".
