Description:	Hello Experts,

First of all, I'm not an expert on ruby/rails/linux. I have set up a Redmine tracker at my previous job under windows, and now the chiliproject under linux in a VM . I choose chiliproject because my feeling is that's it is much more alive.

I installed chiliproject by following the instructions provided. so far so good, works excellent. Very nice.

Now I want to try the taskjuggler plugin (worked with that before) because I want scheduling functionality combined with a good web based issue tracker. (IMO scheduling would be an absolute 100% winning addition to Chiliproject. Say goodbye to MS Project).

* I cloned from https://github.com/chris2fr/redmine_taskjuggler to /var/www/chiliproject/chiliproject/vendor/plugins/redmine_taskjuggler

* next in the console:
<pre>
/var/www/chiliproject/chiliproject# bundle exec rake --trace db:migrate:plugins RAILS_ENV=production
</pre>

I get the following error:
<pre>
root@bas-VirtualBox:/var/www/chiliproject/chiliproject# bundle exec rake --trace db:migrate:plugins RAILS_ENV=production
 Invoke db:migrate:plugins (first_time)
 Invoke environment (first_time)
 Execute environment rake aborted!

Tasks: TOP => db:migrate:plugins => environment
</pre>
```

I tried the following without success:

Can anybody help in solving this?

Much appreciated,
Regards,
Bas

Anybody any idea where I should start?
Is this the wrong place?
If so, where should I ask this question?

Anybody any idea where to start? should i switch back to redmine just for testing if this plugin works for my needs?
Much appreciated,
Bas
