

ChiliProject - Feature # 135: Web Statistics

Status:	Declined	Priority:	Normal

Affected version:
Description:	Rather than relying on a template or a view modification, it would be nice if CP would allow in the configuration settings to paste a web statistics tag (Piwik, Google Analytics, AWStats, ...) that would be then appended to each page footer.
	(Putting this in 'User interface' category because I don't know if you consider user both as regular users and admins or not, and I don't see 'Admins interface' category).

Mmh, there's a plugin for that already (for the google thing at least), not sure I'd want/need it in core.

I found it: [\[\[https://github.com/edavis10/redmine-google-analytics-plugin\]\]](https://github.com/edavis10/redmine-google-analytics-plugin)

It seems to work for any statistics tag, so might as well change its name to something more generic. I'll let Eric decide if he wants to do it or if I should fork it.

Thanks Felix.

That plugin is so simple I might try to rewrite it and rename it at the same time. There are a few other features I'd want to add too.

It is indeed so simple that I could do something about it :)

I made a fork (my first) last night so tell me if I did anything wrong regarding code, ethics or anything else.

We need to do a bit of work on the plugin best practices but great job on taking action.

New link is at https://github.com/deurk/chiliproject_web_analytics

I'm going to mark this as Declined since it's best handled in a plugin.

I'd be happy to have best practices to follow :)

Thanks.
