The interesting part of the log:

```
<pre>ActionView::TemplateError (undefined method `format_value' for #<ActionView::Base:0xd5be200>) on line #23 of app/views/journals/index.xml:
```

```
20:   xml.content "type" => "html" do
21:     xml.text! '<ul>'
22:     change.details.each do |detail|
23:       xml.text! '<li>' + show_detail(detail, false) + '</li>'
24:     end
25:   xml.text! '</ul>'
26:   xml.text! textilizable(change, :notes, :only_path => false) unless change.notes.blank?</pre>
```

I guess some helper is missing, I'll have a look real quick.

Bingo, the journals controller is missing the @helper :custom_fields@. I've committed the change in commit:c8e584e894955779924a3328b844e3a44923e44f.

I discussed this with Yuki yesterday. The bug occurs because the @journals_controller@ doesn't include the @CustomFieldHelper@, which is required because of source:app/helpers/issues_helper.rb#L143. The solution would be to either include the helper in the journals controller, or to include the helper into the issues helper. I would prefer the latter.

In the future, this isn't even necessary, as the journals controller is killed by #123.

I proposed we add all helper to ApplicationController so these bugs never happen again.
