I really don't like using the wiki content for categories. I'd actually prefer using tags instead of categories also.

Having someway to organize wiki pages would be an improvement and help with larger wikis.

If i had to decide, i would prefer booth. For more static structures i prefer categories, for lightwight marking tags - just like in wordpress ;) Both methods are useful. Anyway - somewhat to organize the wiki would be extremly useful.

Like Eric, I'd prefer tags for wiki pages. Having both is an option, but IMHO it adds too much complexity for too little extra kaboom.

I've therefore opened a new feature #721 for tags on wiki pages.
