Description:	There should be a date and feature shown for the wiki on the site in order to determine when entries were made and how likely they are to be out of date. Further, the author or contributor feature would be useful to see who has contributed in order to either contact them or to find more entries with which they're involved.

Wiki pages have a history, for example the history of the wiki starting page here is <https://www.chiliproject.org/projects/chiliproject/wiki/Homepage/history>, isn't that what you are looking for?
