Description: In #458 we updated the Gemfile to allow the usage of rmagick 2 (which is required for Ruby 1.9 and on certain platforms). On the other hand, certain older distributions don't bring a sufficiently recent ImageMagick. Nevertheless, we decided should require rmagick >= 2.0 for the version:3.0.0 release to make it easier for the majority of people and to allow us to use the extended API features.

Is the only thing needed for this a change to the Gemfile?

If so I'm fine doing this. If not, then we should bump it out of 3.0.0 until it's ready.

Bumping out of 3.0.0 until the code is ready for this.
