Description: Very irritating to click save and receive a failure that says "Data has been updated by another user", then have to cancel out and edit again, only to happen again. Doesn't even tell you who's updating it.

I agree. I have some code that "fixes" this, I'll try to include it in 3.0.

It won't stop "Data has been updated by another user" but it will save your data and let you resubmit it. I think it will even tell you what data was changed.
