ChiliProject - Bug # 812: Change references to Redmine

Status:	Closed	Priority:	Low
Author:	Andreas Schuh	Category:	User interface
Created:	2012-01-02	Assignee:	Holger Just
Updated:	2012-01-03	Due date:

Remote issue URL:
Affected version:
Description:	For example, when adding a reference to a Git repository and then clicking on the Users link at the bottom right of the Repository settings tab of a project, the message:
	"Select or update the Redmine user mapped to each username found in the repository log. Users with the same Redmine and repository username or email are automatically mapped."
	is displayed. Here "ChiliProject" should clearly be substituted for "Redmine".
	(I am using the 3.0.0 beta1 version of ChiliProject)

I changed all references of Redmine to ChiliProject in commit:1bd8ea6 (in the current master). It will be part of the next 3.0.0 beta release.

Thanks for the hint.
